

Top Five Italian Restaurants in Los Angeles

Posted by Haute Living on August 23rd, 2011

Italian food feeds the soul and is popular amongst Los Angeles' most posh crowds. Whether you're in the mood for a fresh piece of fish or a heavy bolognese, check out our picks for LA's top 5 Italian haute spots. Scarpetta, located in the Montage Hotel in Beverly Hills, is a high-end Italian restaurant that really delivers. Although customers are in for a fine dining experience, there's nothing stuffy or conservative about the atmosphere. Scott Conant's pasta creations are perfect in both taste and texture. The spaghetti is popular amongst the regulars and is a must-try for newcomers. Stop by on a Sunday for a unique Italian brunch experience.